School Holiday Program

Free, drop-in sessions designed for ages 7+, plus activities for kids aged 0–6 with a carer.

Visit the Tasmanian Museum and Art Gallery (TMAG) in the July School Holidays to enjoy special activities during NAIDOC Week, which this year focuses on the theme 'Because of Her, We Can!'

She Shells

This NAIDOC Week we celebrate the role of women in the community and the current TMAG exhibition Lola Greeno: Cultural Jewels.

Ages 7 and up can drop into a daily workshop exploring traditional and contemporary Tasmanian Aboriginal shell necklace-making.

Meet TMAG's Aboriginal Learning Facilitator, enjoy specially-designed iPad interactive apps, hands-on design activities, and contribute to a 'shell' string installation.

The relaxing early learners' play space next door contains games and resources on themes such as natural collections, shapes and patterns (for 0 to 6-year-olds and their carers).

Lola Greeno: Cultural Jewels

This Australian Design Centre touring exhibition showcases works by renowned Tasmanian Aboriginal artist Lola Greeno and is on show during NAIDOC Week at TMAG.

It features 50 shell necklaces which display Lola's award winning talent in shell-working and champion the traditions and culture of the Indigenous women of Tasmania's Cape Barren and Flinders Islands.
