

ICE BOX

ANTARCTIC EDUCATION RESOURCE

THE NEW ICE BOX ANTARCTIC EDUCATION RESOURCE

This exciting resource brings the study of Antarctica alive in the classroom. From modern Antarctic expeditionary clothing, to Inuit-made reindeer and arctic fox skin clothing, students now have the opportunity to carefully handle actual polar objects when learning about Antarctica. No longer is the remoteness of the region a barrier to learning.

AVAILABLE FREE TO SCHOOLS IN TASMANIA

The objects have been carefully chosen to reflect three broad themes:

the natural Antarctic environment

history of exploration (and connections with Australia)

people in Antarctica today

Accompanied by a teacher's guide and a range of visual resources, explorers' journals and key reference text, the Ice Box offers an overview of this remarkable region.

Explore learning through hands-on objects including; Emperor penguin chicks, whales' teeth and baleen, krill, geological samples, and scientific and expeditionary equipment and clothing.

BOOKINGS & ENQUIRIES

p 6211 4189

e tmag.bookings@tmag.tas.gov.au

Loan period is two weeks.

Note: the only fee involved with this service is that required for freight.

Sponsored by the Australian Antarctic Division, Tasmanian Polar Network, Antarctic Tasmania and Gordon Bain.